LOCATION OF CLASS MEETING
WITH ROCKEFELLER CHANGED

MISSOULA---

A class meeting by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller with University of Montana history and political science students has been relocated from room 11 of the UM Liberal Arts Building to the University Center 361 series, according to Tom Collins, director of the UM Foundation and coordinator of Rockefeller's visit.

In addition to the 3 p.m. meeting with UM history students, Rockefeller will meet with UM law students at 11:15 a.m. and will conduct a free public lecture at 2 p.m. in the UC Ballroom.

The four-term New York governor will be hosted at a luncheon of UM faculty, staff and students in the UC 361 series at 12:15 p.m. Attending the luncheon will be noted television personality Carroll O'Connor, a 1956 alumnus of the University, and Juanita Daly, wife of the late Marcus Daly III.

Rockefeller has scheduled a press conference for 3:30 p.m. in the UC for the benefit of area news media and UM journalism students prior to his departure at 4 p.m.
